

SCHAFFER ASSAILS SLANDER CAMPAIGN

State Attorney General Says Cox Cannot Obscure League as Issue

Governor Cox's "campaign of slander" was denounced by Attorney General Schaffer at a dinner of the Ben Franklin Club last night in the Bellevue-Stratford. He said that its failure was forecast by the "whisper campaign" in Maine, where he said the statement "If you vote for Cox that is the end of the eighteenth amendment," was insidiously circulated by Democratic workers throughout that state, but proved unavailing on election day. Mr. Schaffer's subject was the "Principles of the 1920 Presidential Campaign."

Cox's charge of a slush fund is not the real issue of the campaign, said Mr. Schaffer. "It is the League of Nations. I am against any such league as I do not believe that under our form of government any one man should have the power of committing us to war for things European, with which we have no concern. On the other hand it would hamper our initiative if we felt it necessary to go to war and the rest of the council of the league voted 'no.'"

"One of the principal sub-issues of the campaign is that the American people are coming to correct conclusions by virtue of experience. Measured by the achievements of individuals, which party is safest to pilot the country? Governor Cox could not command the services of the sort of men we need to command. I believe that there is some man in the Republican party who could put government bonds back to par.

"It is to the interest of Europe to flood us with goods so she can pay her debt to us, and at the same time it is to her interest to keep the prices high in her own country. We must put at the head of the government men who have the capacity to direct our affairs and to preserve our ideals against all others in the world. By taking care of ourselves we can be in best shape to help all other nations."

Great tributes were paid to Governor Cox by Mr. Schaffer who said that the Massachusetts executive was "one of the great finds in America."

WILLS PROBATED TODAY

Mrs. Helen F. Brewster Leaves "$12,000 and Over" to Daughter

Wills admitted to probate today follow: Mrs. Helen F. Brewster, who died in July at Mont Hiant, Switzerland, who left "$12,000 and over" to her daughter, Francis Carroll Brewster. The will provides that Miss Brewster, if she marries and has children, may bequeath the money to her children, but not to any other relatives. If she does bequeath to relatives then the provision is made that the money revert to certain charities.

Reuben H. Andrews, of 2321 North Park avenue, left $10,000 to relatives, and Christina Pfander, who died at Ocean City, bequeathed to relatives $18,550.

Inventories were filed in the following estates: James Roberts, $8445; Mary J. Krierer, $99,310, and Emma D. Froh, $9565.

MANY IN NIGHT SCHOOLS

Enrollment This Year Exceeds Registration in 1919

Registrations in two evening high schools are exceeding those of last year. It was announced today. At the Northeast High School, Eighth street and Lehigh avenue, there have been 1500 registrants, as compared with 1200 in 1919, and at the Frankford High School, Oxford avenue and Harrison street, 1200 have applied to study in the evening classes, as compared with 1000 a year ago.

The doors of the evening high schools were thrown open Monday, and the registration has been so heavy at all the schools that complete reports have not yet been made out. In some of the schools the privilege to register has been extended to Monday of next week, and reports from those institutions will not be complete until September 30 or October 1.

Society Girl on Stage

The stage has received another recruit from society in Miss Elaine M. Morris, formerly resident of Haverford, who is expected to appear here soon in "The Girl in the Private Room." Miss Morris joined the company against the wishes of her family, it is said. Her mother, Mrs. Stephen Morris, under the name of Isabel Morris, acted in the movies for several years. She died in 1915.

Women All Seem So Eager to Slip Into These New Coats

And they all seem so pleased with the style of them, and equally pleased with the prices, which are noticeably much lower than last year. The smart Velour Coat shown in the sketch ($37.50) has a deep collar of fur and is lined throughout with beautiful figured silk.

Worsted Jersey Sports Coats, $45.00
Three-quarter length, single-breasted and double-breasted; lined body and sleeves.

Mixed Cloth Top Coats, $25 to $60.00
Loose slip-on styles, rather plain-tailored, and with great enveloping collars.

Dress Coats, from $27.50 to $75.00
Of wool velour, bolivia and silvertone cloths, in wrap-like styles, often more like cape than Coats; some in Dolman effects. Some with collars of fur.

Wool Velour Coats, $22.50 to $25.00
An especially good model, silk-lined throughout, and finished with deep cape collar, at $22.50; another model, at $25.00, has deep collar of fur. Many other models up to $75.00.

Coats in Special Sizes
For large, full figures, short-waisted figures and others of irregular proportions. An excellent assortment of fashionable models, $45.00 to $75.

A Few of the Sample Coats Remain

In fact, there is still an excellent selection, as all the models are so very desirable from a Fashion standpoint, and all are at a saving of from $10.00 to $20.00. Size 36 only. Prices $30.00 to $60.00.

Wool velour, silvertone, duvet de laine, broadcloth and smart tweed effects; belted, semi-belted and tailored semi-fitting models; some with fur collars. Black, navy blue and fashionable autumn shades.

Now That Fashions are Established Choosing Dresses and Suits Begins With Enthusiasm Unprecedented

The Opening Displays continue, and never before, in all our history, has a Fashion event of any kind met with such immediate and active response as characterizes this one. The garments displayed are beautiful, and there are hundreds and hundreds of others, some, perhaps, more to your liking than those in the display. Ask to see them—ask particularly to see the moderately-priced Suits and Dresses; we have never shown so extensive and varied an assortment, neither do we know of any collection anywhere that typifies so accurately all the latest tendencies of the mode. In brief—

New Cloth Dresses, $19.75 to $22.50
Serges and tricelines, beautifully tailored in plaited and straight-line styles, embroidered, beaded, braided—some showing the new colored vestees. In navy and black. The Dress sketched, $22.50.

New Cloth Dresses, $25.00 to $50.00
These include the redingote and various straight-line and plaited models on Moya Aze lines, belted, sashed and girdled. Of serge and tricotine, in navy blue and black.

Afternoon Dresses, $18.75 to $30.00
Crepe de chine, satin, taffeta-and-crepe Georgette, with plaited tier at the sides, plaited tunics or box-plaited skirts, and with the little neck and sleeve touches that mean so much—some have little vestees, others the collarless neck-line.

New Cloth Suits, $32.50 to $45.00
Belted models of cheviot and silvertone, some plaited and tucked, some slightly gathered; also semi-fitting models slightly flaring over the hips. Black, navy blue, browns, Pekin blue and Oxford gray.

Smart Outing Suits, $27.50 to $35.00
Of worsted jersey in plain tones and heather mixtures, made in various plaited styles—one model with deep pointed yoke in the back; another pin-tucked in block effect. The Suit sketched, $32.50.

Fine Cloth Suits, $50.00 to $72.50
Wool velour, silvertone, duvet de laine, broadcloth and smart tweed effects; belted, semi-belted and tailored semi-fitting models; some with fur collars. Black, navy blue and fashionable autumn shades.

Final Opportunities! Save 20 to 45 Per Cent by Purchasing Here and Now.

EXTRAORDINARY CLOSE-OUTS FOR TOMORROW, DUE TO CONGESTION OF OUR STOCKS BECAUSE OF GREAT DELAYS IN COMPLETING OUR SECOND FLOOR

Since last April we have been endeavoring to hurry the builders and contractors along with the big job of completing another Great Selling Floor for us. But disappointing delays have resulted! First, labor shortage! Then material shortages! Until the FINAL RESULT is that now we are stocked to such an extraordinarily high extent that WE MUST CLEAR.

If we hadn't manufactured thousands of dollars' worth of Furs ready for the Grand Opening (which we planned for August 1st last) of the Enlarged Department, all would have been well. We could have held our Skins. But the Furs are coming through daily—fashioned into the loveliest Fur Styles—and in order to clear these stocks we are making enormous price-concessions. Double values result for you!
